

Nominations now being accepted for annual Bruce Dawson Award

Ohio groups that participate in outdoor-related activities have the opportunity to apply for the prestigious Bruce Dawson Memorial Award from the Outdoor Writers of Ohio.

The award, created two years ago after the death of Mr. Dawson, then president of OWO, honors Ohio groups with a plaque and cash prize that is presented at the OWO spring convention.

Consideration for the award is given to applicants from any non-profit conservation organization involved with habitat, teaching kids about the outdoors (including shooting sports), promoting outdoor and boating safety, helping animals and those working with divisions of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

To be considered for the award, any non-profit conservation organization can send a one-page letter or email to any OWO member or to: OWO, 2615 Fieldstone Ct., Troy, OH 45373 or by email to jmorris9@woh.rr.com. It must be received no later than Aug. 1, 2008. Late submissions will not be considered.

The name and phone number of the president or leader of the organization should be included along with a statement as to what the group does, a short history, current projects, a demonstration of financial need and why OWO should consider it for the award.
